INTRODUCTION

THE Insurance Society of New York, commencing Tuesday, March 4th, 1919, at 12:30 p.m., will give a series of twenty lectures covering the subjects of the Junior or First Year of the Fire Branch of The Insurance Institute of America.

OBJECT

The Primary Object of the lectures is to help those who wish to present themselves for the examinations of The Insurance Institute of America which will be held in the spring. The time and place of the Institute's examinations will be announced later to all enrolled students.

WHO MAY ATTEND

Membership in The Insurance Society of New York is recommended to those who take the course, but it is not necessary. If you are not a member and are interested in becoming one, full information will be given at the Library of the Society.

FEES

A Fee of Three Dollars ($3.00) will be charged for each person who enrolls for the course. This includes the fee for the Institute as well. Cards for enrollment must be obtained at the Library and the fee paid at that time. The examination is not compulsory, but everyone taking the course is urged to take the examination and obtain the certificate which is granted by the Institute.

TIME, PLACE AND DURATION OF LECTURES

The Lectures Will Be Held, through the courtesy of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, in their assembly hall on the eleventh floor of 123 William St. The lectures will begin promptly at 12:30 p.m., and close promptly at 1:15 p.m.

THE LIBRARY

Students in the Course are entitled to use the Library and under the rules to draw books for home use. Full information concerning this feature may be obtained at the Library.

References to be read in connection with the lectures will be given by each lecturer as the work proceeds.
